

University of Fukui (Fukui Prefecture)

Solving School Problems Practically and Aiming for Cultivating Teacher's Competency

◇ University overview

○ Characteristics and history

The University of Fukui has four schools: the School of Education, the School of Medical Science, the School of Engineering, and the School of Global and Community Studies. It also has four Graduate Schools: the United Graduate School of Professional Development of Teachers, University of Fukui, Nara Women's University and Gifu Shotoku Gakuen University (hereafter referred to United Graduate School of PDT), the School of Medical Sciences, the Graduate School of Engineering, and the Professional Graduate School of Global and Community Management.

Fukui Prefecture is situated in the central part of Japan and is blessed with both natural beauty and rich cultural heritage. Facing the Sea of Japan, Fukui played an important role in ancient times as a gateway to and from continental Asian countries, and it still retains many relics that reflect its long history and tradition. Fukui is a beautiful place which changes its appearance in each season.

20001	Syoichi YANAGISAWA (Professor)	yanagi@f-edu.u-fukui.ac.jp	Teacher education, Lifelong learning	This course, designed specifically for school teachers, is offered by instructors of the Professional Development of Teachers Program in the Graduate School of Education, University of Fukui. In order for teachers to acquire expertise, it is important that teachers put them in a practice-reflection-reconstruction cycle and that they reframe school as a learning community. Taking that into consideration, the University of Fukui adopts "school-based method" before other universities in the world, and offers practical teacher education. Our objective is to be a graduate school where teachers work cooperatively with their colleagues to solve problems at school. When a problem occurs at the classroom, for example, instructors at the University of Fukui and teachers at affiliated schools work together to tackle the problem, reflect the process, work on a research report, and deepen the understanding in a roundtable conference with other universities. There are instructors in various fields. Students can receive multi-disciplinary research instruction from team teaching in the program. International students are expected to visit the actual classroom at affiliated schools with UF instructors, do research on classroom teaching, and receive training at affiliated schools.	English, Japanese	3	- Those who have teaching experience at preschool, elementary school, junior high school, and high school in their home country. - Since the students will be involved with Japanese education, applicants must have either enough Japanese language proficiency or willingness to acquire Japanese language in the given period. - Applicants must have willingness to contribute to education and teacher education in their home country after completing the program. - Applicants must have willingness to devote themselves to teacher and educational research exchange between Japan and their home country after completing the program. (Total 17: Bhutan 4, Australia 1, Columbia 1, India 1, Cambodia 3, Democratic Republic of the Congo 1, Guatemala 1, Myanmar 1, Malaysia 2, Republic of Namibia 1, Mexico 1)
